

James Brayshaw

Broadcaster/Sports Journalist/Commentator/ Host

James Brayshaw is one of Australia's key sporting media personalities with an impressive career in television, radio and journalism.

James is best known as co-host with Garry Lyon on Channel Nine's The Footy Show, the number one AFL program in Australia.

A long-time audience favorite on radio, James in 2010 took the reins as host of Triple M's weekday Drive show The Rush Hour with Billy Brownless, and is also host of the Sunday Footy Show, leads the AFL commentary team for Triple M Melbourne and is a member of the Nine Network's Cricket commentary team.

Despite his demanding media commitments, James is also Chairman of the North Melbourne Football Club and Melbourne Renegades and maintains a strong involvement in a range of corporate and charity activities as host or MC.
