

Julian Schiller

Comedy Writer/Performer/Broadcaster

Julian Schiller is a highly skilled broadcaster, content creator and writer, with a long record of accomplishment in radio and television. Julian finished on Nova FM Adelaide after seven years as part of the highly successful breakfast show, at the end of 2010, and is a regular contributor to Network 10's The 7pm Project, and as a column-writer for the Adelaide Advertiser.

"Yes, yes, yes I cry in delight and laughter, agreeing with Jules Schiller"- Reader feedback, 2011

In 1997 Julian and his long term collaborator Tony Moclair made the move to Triple M where they wrote and performed a number of hugely successful nationally networked comedy programs as well as co-creating two platinum selling, and ARIA award winning comedy CD's with character Guido Hatzis. Julian and Tony also wrote, developed and performed in productions for The Comedy Channel, Nine Network and Seven Network.

They also created controversial talk show Restoring the Balance on Triple J, and co-hosted 'in character' as Young National, Tom Thomlinson (Julian) and Young Liberal, Stirling Addison (Tony), and the response from listeners was unprecedented.

"I love Restoring the Balance. It's absolutely hilarious! Keep up the good work. Best wishes from a loyal listener, going on a decade now." – Listener feedback
